

VERIZON MOBILE EMAIL SETUP INSTRUCTIONS

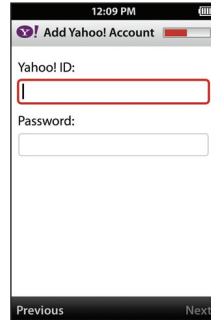

OVERVIEW

Your phone will provide instant access to Microsoft® Exchange, Yahoo!® Mail, Gmail™, Windows Live® Hotmail®, AOL and Verizon.net accounts when you download Mobile Email. If you haven't downloaded Mobile Email, visit Media Center, select Browse and Download, select Get New Applications, choose Mobile Email - Latest Version and follow the on-screen instructions.

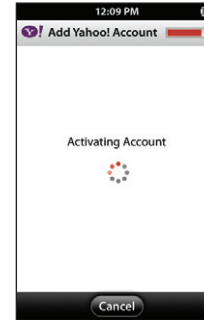

EMAIL SETUP

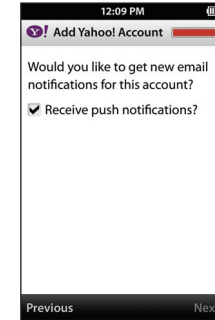

1: Launch Mobile Email from your handset's home screen, accept terms, then select your Email provider.

2: Enter your email ID and Password and select Next.

3: Your phone will validate your account and email will be on its way to your phone.
If Mobile Email does not find your account settings, you will be prompted to setup your account manually. Visit verizonwireless.com/emailsettings for popular email server settings.

4: If you would like new emails to be automatically downloaded to your phone (push email), check Receive push notifications. If not, uncheck the box and select Next.

Contacts: Select Contacts on the Mobile Email home screen to view your email contacts. You can send emails to your phone contacts as well as to contacts in your Yahoo!, Gmail and Exchange accounts.

Calendar: When you set up your Exchange account, you will have an option to view your calendar on your phone. Select Calendar from the Mobile Email home screen.

¹Use of Exchange feature requires IT administrator to allow access to Microsoft Exchange via Outlook Web Access and/or Exchange Web Services and WebDAV. These services must be enabled on the Exchange server. A data plan is strongly recommended when using Exchange via Mobile Email. Microsoft Exchange Server 2003 or newer is required.

²International roaming rates apply if used outside the United States. Downloading the Mobile Email application will require approximately 2 MB of data. Application not available on all devices.
